Who We Serve

We serve communities and people affected by social injustice, violence and conflicts in East Africa

Where We Work

Currently the program operates in four regions in Kenya: Nairobi, North Rift, Nyanza and Western. The program intends to go beyond the four regions as dictated by funds and needs.

Who We Are

We are a registered non-profit and non-governmental organization supporting social justice and peacebuilding program operating in Kenya since 2010.

In 2015, Kenya Turning the Tide (TTT) trainers helped launch the program in Rwanda and Burundi. In line with the new strategic direction, from September 2019, TTT Kenya will be operating under the AfriNov.

Our Mission

Drive social justice in East Africa by training, mentoring and mobilizing communities through nonviolence means.

We work with communities through trained community resource persons (CRPs), community groups, civil society organizations, state and non-state stakeholders.

Nonviolent Campaigns Supported

- Women Rights & Empowerment
- Disability Rights
- Children Rights & Youth Empowerment
- Environmental Conservation and Management
- Good Governance & Public Service Delivery
- Land Rights
- Anti- Election Malpractices & Violence

Our Success

- Community Ownership of Nonviolent Campaign and working with over 50 grassroots groups
- Developed a pool of over 100 Community Resource Persons (CRPs) in 4 regions. 45 CRPs currently engaged
- Supported introduction on TTT program in Rwanda and Burundi with QPSW's support. Trained 20 CRP's each for Rwanda and Burundi

Challenge and Opportunities

- Overwhelming request for TTT training and campaign support in Kenya vis-a-vis the available funding.
- Request to introduce the TTT peace program to other countries, namely Uganda, Nigeria and Zimbabwe.
